Damanhur, Beheira , Egypt

Ambitious and multidisciplinary professional with a strong academic background in English language and education, complemented by solid experience in graphic design, freelancing, and marketing. Passionate about creativity and continuous growth, I have completed intensive training programs, including The Information Technology Institute (ITI) and National Telecommunication Institute (NTI) 120-hour Graphic Design Diploma (90 hours in design and 30 hours in freelancing), which significantly enhanced my technical expertise and built up a professional portfolio.

Beyond academics, I have been actively engaged in volunteering with organizations such as Life Makers Foundation and in student activities like Students For Egypt (SFE), where I strengthened my leadership, communication skills, and teamwork. In parallel, I'm developing myself in diverse fields, including marketing, personal branding, project management, entrepreneurship, and business, which broaden my perspective and increase my ability to deliver value.

Recognized for adaptability, problem-solving, and a strong drive for excellence, I am eager to leverage my diverse skill set to create meaningful impact and achieve outstanding results.
